TEXAS VOTERS TURN BOSQUE COUNTY MAN DOWN FOR SENATE

MARLIN CONGRESSMAN NOW LEADING MAYFIELD BY OVER FIFTY THOUSAND

DALLAS, Aug. 27. (AP)—Congressman Tom Connally was leading his opponent, Earle B. Mayfield, for the democratic nomination for United States senate by 55,716 votes, latest returns received today by the Texas Election Bureau disclosed.

Report from 219 out of 253 counties in the state, including 30 complete and 21 counties where no primaries were held, gave Connally 222,877 and Mayfield 236,961.

Further returns failed to cut the lead of S. M. N. Marrs, seeking re-nomination for another term as state superintendent of public instruction, over W. F. Garner of Nacogdoches. Marrs' total vote was 291,143 as compared with 217,103 for his opponent.

For land commissioner, J. T. Robison, veteran commissioner of the general land office, was assured of his re-nomination through counting totals today. Robison had polled 317,067 and Otis Terrell of Austin, his opponent, 179,852 votes.

Other totals gave R. Q. Lee of Cisco 25,518 votes in the race for congress from the Seventeenth district, and Oscar Callaway of Comanche 20,690.

Judge O. C. Funderburk of Eastland had a lead of more than 3,000 votes over B. W. Patterson of Cisco for justice of the eleventh district.

The vote was Funderburk 23,990 and Patterson 20,541.

ACTION OF FEDERAL DISTRICT ATTORNEY CREATES SENSATION

ASSISTANT U. S. ATTORNEY GENERAL NOT BEHIND LATEST PRO MOVE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27. (AP)—Attention drawn to the enforcement of prohibition by more or less spectacular raids in large cities has led Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt to declare emphatically the department of justice does not include in its war on liquor unnecessary harassment of citizens.

The assistant attorney general in charge of prohibition prosecutions wants it made plain that enforcement of the liquor laws is demanded to the letter but she also said, in discussing the situation last night that all regard is to be given the rights of the public. She insisted that no new interpretation of the prohibition laws as applied to Tolmes is sought, or needed.

She would make no direct comment on a statement attributed to J. H. S. Gifford, United States district attorney in Minneapolis, that the law makes no distinction in prohibition violations "between a man's home and his place of business."

Instead she referred to the law governing the search of homes and declared this could not be done legally without the proper warrant and that severe penalty was prescribed for illegal search of dwellings.

Commenting on what she termed "a serious and a certain section of the public," Mrs. Willebrandt said:

"There seems to be a hysteria among certain people on the subject of prohibition. They seem to think that we sit up nights in an effort of device means of harassing citizens in the enforcement of prohibition. I would emphasize that this is not our attitude. We have all due regard for the rights of the public. There is ample protection for these rights in the law as it now stands and we have no intention of overstepping the limits laid down."

Seabock suffered slight cuts but Lera was unhurt.

WARRANT ISSUED HEAD NEW MEXICO NATIONAL GUARD

CHARGES RESULT OF ASSAULT EL PASO FARMER'S COMPLAINT MELON THEFT

EL PASO, Aug. 27. (AP)—District Attorney C. L. Vowell today caused a warrant to be issued for Col. Norman L. King, commander of the New Mexico National Guard, charging him with compounding a felony.

Efforts of peace officers to serve the warrant failed, Colonel King having left the camp for New Mexico in advance of the National Guard which broke up today.

The charge against the New Mexico colonel grew out of an attack alleged to have been made on an El Paso county farmer at Ysleta, Texas, by a captain of the New Mexico militia. The farmer, R. L. Tankersley, 55, is in an El Paso hospital, said to be seriously injured as a result of the captain's knocking him down when Tankersley complained to the officer New Mexico Guardsmen were stealing watermelons from him.

Vowell accused King of sending the captain to the New Mexico state penitentiary, King saying, according to Vowell, he had been advised to do so by Attorney General Robert C. Dow. Dow denied he had given King that advice.

Vowell declared he would ask Governor Dan Moody to make requisition on the governor of New Mexico, asking for the return of Colonel King and the captain to Texas.

WORLD STATESMEN AFFIX SIGNATURES TO KELLOGG'S PLAN

CONSIDERED GREATEST TRUMPH FOR PEACE IN PRESENT GENERATION

PARIS, Aug. 27. (AP)—The Kellogg-Briand renunciation of war treaty was signed this afternoon by the plenipotentiaries of fifteen nations.

Dr. Gustav Stresemann, German foreign minister was the first to sign the historic document, attaching his signature at 3:45 p. m. (9:45 a. m. eastern standard time.)

Secretary of State Kellogg was the second to sign the treaty and Foreign Minister Benes of Czechoslovakia affixed the fifteenth and final signature at 3:55 p. m.

By the pact the fifteen countries renounced war "as an instrument of national policy."

With its signing all the peoples of the world were invited to join in a great effort to achieve permanent universal peace. Soviet Russia being asked to take part through the French government.

Germany First to Sign

Significantly Dr. Stresemann, the first German foreign minister officially received in Paris since the war of 1870, was the first to sign under the alphabetical rule applied to names of the signatory countries. The United States was considered as being called America, in order to make Secretary Kellogg the second signer.

Foreign Minister Hymans of Belgium was third and Foreign Minister Briand, whose message to the American people through the Associated Press many months ago was the origin of the pact which Secretary Kellogg developed and expanded, came fourth.

When Foreign Minister Briand

Unofficial returns as compiled by the Daily Sun show that District Judge Hawkins Scarborough was re-nominated for that office over Warren Hicks, H. C. Nash was nominated for county judge over Ramsey Cox, J. J. Howard won over C. P. Brooks for constable of Precinct No. 1, B. F. Guynes over J. J. Sessions for commissioner of Precinct No. 2 and D. D. Sawyer won over W. J. Hartfield for commissioner of Precinct No. 3.

Mayfield by 706 votes, Barry Miller carried the county for lieutenant governor, Tom Love receiving 2267 votes despite the fact that he had announced his withdrawal. S. M. N. Marrs received a majority of 220 votes over W. F. Garner for state superintendent of public instruction, while J. T. Robison won over Otis Terrell by 2003 votes for commissioner of the general land office.

Closes Hot Campaign

The voting Saturday brought to a final close one of the hardest fought and bitterest primary campaigns ever indulged in Navarro county. The first campaign was exceedingly bitter in some of the races. The second campaign was conducted more quietly but there was activity on behalf of and by the candidates for the local offices up to the time of the voting, while considerable interest was injected into the race for United States senator in view of the fact that both candidates spoke in Corsicana.

Briand is Pleased With Results Peace Plan He Suggested

FRANCO-AMERICAN FRIENDSHIP

PARIS, Aug. 27. (AP)—It has been a year and a half since, in a message conveyed through the Associated Press, I let fall this fragile germ of a suggestion, a suggestion which has been developing nothing more than the spontaneous sympathy of the American people.

History already testified to what care was taken to safeguard the seed and make it grow. It knew how much one may expect from the qualities of American soil, which yields an hundredfold for the grain confided to it. The harvest has not been so good, however, as I had hoped. It has become those of the whole world.

I have never doubted for a single instant the American people only wanted their hour to manifest in a new form the national attachment they have always had for the cause of peace. I felicitate myself today that this brilliant manifestation permits us to measure how much selfishness Franco-American friendship can overcome.

The great nations, faithful to the same traditions of liberalism, acting together for peace today as they did in other days for liberty, find themselves united in the same inspiration, in the birth of all great movement of human spirit.

The first bombing wrecked the front of the two-story brick plant in which is published the Star, at Chicago Heights. Windrows of the business district of the suburb were shattered for a block around. This bombing was attributed by King Williams, editor of the Star, to the newspaper's editorial warfare against gamblers.

A downtown Chicago bombing was just outside the Loop and within a block of the Hotel Sherman, many of whose guests were students, who heard their baccalaureate sermon Sunday night, will be held tonight with Dean T. U. Taylor of the college of engineering delivering the commencement address.

TREASURY DEFICIT PREDICTED BUDGET DIRECTOR FOR 1929

INCREASED BUREAU ACTIVITIES AND DECREASE IN REVENUE REPORTED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27. (AP)—President Coolidge's hope for a balanced budget on June 30, 1929, apparently faces disappointment, and the government, for the first time since the war, formally is forecasting a deficit in the treasury.

As set forth in the annual report of Director Lord of the budget, the figure on the red letter side of the ledger is expected to be $94,279,346 for the fiscal year, 1929.

The reason for the deficit, which, if materialized, will displace a once expected surplus of more than $252,000,000, are given by government estimates as greater outlays of money due to expanded activities of bureaus, and a prospective decrease in revenue.

The trend toward fulfillment of one side of the situation—decrease in revenue—was attested to last night in a report of the internal revenue bureau, made public at the same time Director Lord predicted the deficit. This report disclosed that tax collections in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1928, were less by $75,147,592 than in the preceding year.

had finished an address of welcome and the pact had been read, both were translated into English. This took forty-three minutes and then the foreign minister after a burst of applause, rose and invited Dr. Strasseman to sign the historic instrument.

Dr. Strasseman rose straight to his full height. He was quite pale but walked with firm step around the big table to the inside of the horseshoe and seated himself at a small table where the treaty, with its seals affixed, was lying. He wrote his signature quickly with Secretary Kellogg's pen dipped in the inkstand which served for the signing of the first Franco-Belgian treaty negotiated by Benjamin Franklin.

Kellogg Signs Second.
Then at Foreign Minister Briand's nod, Secretary Kellogg went to the treaty table and signed. The others followed in a steady procession, taking an average of forty seconds so that the signatures were completed in ten minutes.

After Foreign Minister Hymans had signed for Belgium and Lord Curzon for England, Lord Cusheford, acting British secretary of state for foreign affairs, signed in behalf of the kingdom of Great Britain. He was followed by President McKenna of Canada; Alexander MacLachlan, member of the executive council, for the commonwealth of Australia; Sir Christopher Parr, New Zealand high commissioner, for New Zealand; Jacobus Smilt, South African high commissioner, for South Africa; and President Cosgrave, for the Irish Free State. Lord Cusheford then signed again for India. Count Munzoni signed for Italy, Count Uchida for Japan, Foreign Minister Zaleski for Poland, and Foreign Minister Genes for Czechoslovakia.

The crowd of guests was Democratic despite the gold lace which was particularly noticeable on many of the gorgeously dressed guests. There were a few high hats. Ambassador Claudel, French envoy to the United States, was the first to come with a topper.

Dr. Gustav Stresemann, the German foreign minister, was among the last to arrive. He was pale and clearly showed the effects of his recent illness. Neither he, nor the other plenipotentiaries, was cheered and the crowd of spectators was very quiet.

After the plenipotentiaries, came a procession preceded by the master of ceremonies and by an escort of ushers, on with a Halberd and the march. They took their seats quickly and then there was a dazzling moment when blinding lights were turned on for the motion picture men who were filming the historic event.

Briand Speaks Briefly.
Rising and facing the plenipotentiaries, Foreign Minister Briand said: "I would rather have said one word of peace than the name of his country attach his signature to the greatest collective act of peace, but it would be to acquire myself badly of my country not to tell you how much it appreciates the honor of being host to the signatories of a general pact of renunciation of war."

This honor has been left to France as acknowledgment of the moral standing she enjoys thanks to her constant effort in the cause of peace. I gladly accept such tribute on behalf of the government of the French republic and I express the gratification of the whole people, happy that the most precious of their national psychology should at last be understood by the world."

"What greater lesson can be offered the world than this spectacle of reunion where, for signature of a pact against war, Germany of her own free will and on an even footing takes her place among the other signatories, her former adversaries. The occasion is all the more striking when it is given to a representative of France to receive for the first time since more than half a century, a German foreign minister on French soil and give him the same welcome as all his former colleagues."

Signers Leave Room.
Immediately the signing had ended, M. Briand rose. The others followed suit and they filed out of the room in the same order in which they entered. They proceeded into the garden to have tea with the French foreign secretary as host.

The tea party lasted only a brief half hour for the delegates had a hard night before them, what with dinner at the foreign office and a reception afterwards. Lord Cusheford, Uchida for Japan, Lord Cusheford of England and Gustav Stresemann of Germany came out 30 minutes after the signing. Secretary Kellogg followed a few minutes later.

On leaving, as on entering, Herr Stresemann got "the hand of the afternoon." There were quite a few "bravos" and a number of shouts of "vive Stresemann." The applause for Secretary Kellogg was a little more subdued but there was no question about its cordiality.

PARIS, Aug. 27.—Fourteen leading statesmen of the old and new worlds assembled in Paris today to consecrate what many consider the greatest triumph of peace since the Hague conference nearly thirty years ago. They were here to sign a treaty evolved by two of their number, Kellogg and Briand, "to render war more difficult."

The magnitude of the act was enhanced by the simplicity of the ceremony arranged, no flights of oratory dimming its impressive nature.

The suggestion that one of the visiting statesmen should reply to a few words of welcome by Aristide Briand, French foreign minister, was rejected on the grounds that the signature is an act of faith in future peace and no words are necessary to emphasize it.

Gustav Stresemann, German foreign minister, had the honor of being the first to sign the treaty, since the signature is by French alphabetical order of the nations, Germany (Allemagne) heading the list.

Frank B. Kellogg, American secretary of state, was next to sign for the United States. The treaty, which he is co-author, insists that chief credit for the accomplishment rightfully belongs to M. Briand whose suggestion on the tenth anniversary of the war led to its consideration.

Secretary Kellogg was awarded second place in the ceremony of signing the pact. His signature in

SIGNING OF PEACE PACT IS ACCOMPLISHED AT TIME MANY TROUBLES BESET OLD NATIONS

By MELVIN E. COLEMAN, Cable Editor, the Associated Press

The signing in Paris today of the Kellogg pact, calculated by the man whose name it bears "to render war more difficult," is, to its sponsors, the beginning of a movement to unite all civilization in a will for peace.

Plenipotentiaries of fifteen nations pledged their governments to the covenant today, but forty-seven other countries are to be given immediate opportunity to adhere to the treaty, which they are to do by term, and firmly as though they had been original signatories.

In the background has been the coming meeting in Geneva of first the council and then the full assembly of the league of nations. The meeting of the council, subjects for discussion there, is likely to revolve around the more concrete problems relating to evacuation of occupied territories, reparations and war debts.

Disturbance was voiced by Jugoslavia over the change in government in Albania where Ahmed Zogu has been slated to resign.

WORTHAM SCHOOLS TO OPEN.

WORTHAM, Aug. 25.—The Wortham public schools will open the 1923-1924 school year Monday, Sept. 10. E. C. Meador, secretary of the local school board, has announced.

In behalf of the United States immediately following that of Stresemann. Representatives of the other thirteen signatory nations were placed in the following order: Belgium, France, Great Britain and Northern Ireland, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, Ireland, India (Lord Curzon), Japan, Italy, Poland, and Czechoslovakia.

Treaty Summary.
PARIS, Aug. 27.—(P)—The Kellogg-Briand treaty condemns recourse to war for the solution of international controversies, and the signatory nations renounce it as an instrument of national policy in their relations with one another.

The treaty provides that "settlement or solution of all disputes or controversies, of whatever nature or whatever origin they may be" shall be sought only by pacific means.

The preamble declares that any signatory power which seems to promote its national interests by resort to war is in violation of the pact, the other contracting parties are released from their obligations under the treaty to that state.

In proposing the treaty, Secretary Kellogg declared it does not restrict or impair in any way the right of self-defense, and does not conflict with the league of nations covenant since the covenant imposes no affirmative primary obligation to go to war.

Nor does the treaty conflict with the Locarno peace pacts, Mr. Kellogg pointed out. If the parties to the Locarno treaties are under any positive obligations to go to war, he made clear, such obligation certainly would not attach until one of the parties had resorted to war in violation of its solemn pledges under these treaties. And since all the nations signatory to the Locarno treaties also attach their signatures to the new treaty, the Locarno treaties could not be violated without also violating the Kellogg-Briand pact.

His stand that abatement proceedings under the prohibition law apply as stringently to dwellings as to places of business, such as soft drink bars or clubs was reiterated by Mr. Gifford.

Bootleggers Face New Threat

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Aug. 27.—(P)—Bootleggers in the Twin Cities face a new threat—the padlocking by the federal government of homes where the liquor law is violated.

Because padlocking activities of the United States district attorney's office and the prohibition department have closed several hundred soft drink bars and driven bootleggers to homes and apartments to vend liquor, an abatement drive against the residences has been instituted in the Twin Cities.

Applications for injunctions to close 26 homes in St. Paul and Minneapolis for a period of a year are on file in federal court in the Twin Cities by J. H. S. Gifford, assistant United States district attorney. Of this number 10 are in St. Paul and 16 in Minneapolis.

Government officials took this drastic action when they found that bootleggers had turned to the use of private homes as a "blind" for their illicit liquor vending, Mr. Gifford said.

"The procedure against the homes is new," Mr. Gifford said "but the drive has been made necessary by the status of bootleggers from soft drink bars, stores and like places to houses and apartments."

"The home gives the added advantage to the liquor vending business because of the presence of women and children. The offenders hide behind them and attempt to cloud the issue and obtain leniency."

SIAMESE TWINS SALT DOMES DISCOVERED IN HOUSTON DISTRICT

HOUSTON, Aug. 27.—(P)—A pair of "Siamese Twin" salt domes have been discovered in the Houston area.

These domes, about one and one half miles apart and forming nipples, or salt plugs, on a connecting base, were found about 15 miles southeast of Bay City near the Bay City-Houston road by the North American Exploration company. A torsion balance was used in the discovery.

The North American has found two domes. Two have been proved oil bearing by drilling. The Humble Oil and Refining company is rigging up a drill for a test on the third, material has been placed on the ground for a test of the fourth.

The new domes, on which it is understood tests will be made soon, are in the J. Dwyer, Daniel McCarthy and Farnham Fry surveys.

Numerous violations of the statutes appeared on the police docket Monday morning for action of the corporation court. Among the offenses were two charges of disturbing the peace, four of intoxication, one intoxication and disturbing the peace, and two for affray.

Jim Nick Garrity and A. N. Cummy of Richland reported to the police department that tires had been stolen off their cars while parked near the courthouse Friday evening during the Connally rally.

OKLAHOMA G. O. P. MAKES PLANS FOR ACTIVE CAMPAIGN

DRAFT OF STATE PLATFORM
WAS COMPLETED AT SUN-DAY SESSION

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 27.—(P)—In a frictionless meeting, the republican state central committee today completed organization for the state platform convention which was to frame party policies for the coming campaign this afternoon.

H. H. Rogers, Tulsa banker and former president of Rotary International was appointed chairman of the convention by the nominating committee. The keynote speech of the convention was to be delivered by Mr. Rogers.

James C. Denton, Tulsa oil operator and chairman of the Oklahoma-Kansas oil conservation committee, was named chairman of the resolutions committee, which will present a platform for the convention's approval.

Cheers and handclapping greeted every mention of the names of Herbert Hoover and Senator Curtis at the committee meeting this morning.

James Twyford of Oklahoma City, head of the Hoover-Curtis nonpartisan movement in Oklahoma, outlined plans for the county organization in the state.

A tentative draft of the platform, supporting Herbert Hoover and Charles Curtis in their announced positions with relation to prohibition and farm relief and proposed for the state a bi-partisan board for the control of eleemosynary institution and a non-partisan judiciary, was completed late last night by a meeting of party leaders here.

The convention had as its guest speaker, Governor Sam A. Baker of Missouri.

GAPS IN THE RANKS.

Exhaustive, tireless investigations by the United States government leaves little chance that through the process of elimination the identity of the unknown soldier will be revealed. About everything that can be done has been done to clear up the mysteries of the battlefields of France and still 3200 members of the American expeditionary force remain missing or unidentified, the unknown soldier among them.

This figure represents three full regiments of American boys and men who perished to the glory of themselves and their nation. The figures show that 1542 men are in unlocated graves and that though 1645 bodies have been recovered, they cannot be identified. Depressing as this is, there is gratification in the fact that since the war ended, the war department cleared up all but 3187 men of the 25,000 reported missing.

Incident to the ceremonies of the burial of the unknown soldier there was much comment that tragic in a sense as was the lack of knowledge of the warrior's identity, it was a blessing perhaps after all. For every mother whose son is missing may hope that the unknown soldier is her boy and has been and continues to be paid the tribute and homage not only of his own countrymen but of all distinguished foreign visitors.

Mothers' love is such a thing unto itself that this recognition may not soothe the aching heart. Or many a mother may be more content to feel that her son is numbered among the 3200 others resting in unmarked graves or buried tenderly in the quadrant of the unknown dead of some beautiful French cemetery.

HEROINES ARE OLDER NOW.

Age is slowly creeping upon the heroines of romantic love, but seems to be doing it in the characteristic way age has with woman, very slowly. For the age of the heroine has advanced in more than 50 years only from 17 to 28.

Twenty-eight is now the average age for a heroine of a love story, the fact having been established by the examination of more than 27,000 scenarios submitted in a recent contest. Whereas, in 1870, so the judges declare, it was 17.

There is another peculiarity about the age of the heroine. In the scenarios submitted by women writers—and these were 60 percent of the entire number—the age of the heroine averaged about five years more than the age of the heroine created by the man writer. Women will see nothing strange in this but will take it as a proof of the efficiency of the beauty parlor, whose secrets every woman knows, but which are intended for the deception of man.

But age is creeping upon the woman politician also, although she will probably not consider it a serious matter. For although a woman comes a voter at 21, it is a woman of 35 who is going to decide the elections. So says Mrs. Maud Wood whose influence is to be felt in politics.

Every effort will be made by the city administration to connect West Second avenue with the pavement of the Orphans Home road. When this is accomplished the stretch of hard surfaced highway will reach in unbroken line from Beaton street to the Drane community.

When things look dark about to brighten up a bit.

ANGER.

Why are so-called rational human beings so easily angered? A scientist is working on the theory that every fit of anger and every bad disposition can be traced back to some illness. He is convinced that people who have disease histories are more quick to anger than those who have never been sick.

Now that he has called it to the public attention it will be observed by many that there is a certain resemblance between the sick and the irascible. For one thing, both anger and fever make one red in the face. And then, are not the ill always irritable, spleenetic and petulant?

If this theory holds true, it would appear that the past has witnessed an appalling amount of sickness. Many times during the course of the day the average person "loses his temper" or sees others lose control of themselves. A toe is stepped on, a train or street car is late, the car won't start, the dinner burns, a cake "falls," and then, somebody's tongue slips, there are hasty words, and a few minutes later regret and a resolve to practice self-restraint.

This anger-after-illness theory may be productive of some good, and it may be dangerous. True, society would be more tolerant of the ungovernable temper if convinced it came invariably from sickness, but it might have the undesirable effect of discouraging honest attempts at self mastery.

However, it is not safe at this stage of the investigation to presume too far on one's privilege of getting "mad" because of illness. There is a certain hazard in resenting too strongly and overtly a fancied wrong or an unintentional tramp on the toe, even though that which appears to be the provocation for the resentment is not the real cause.

GENE TUNNEY'S ROMANCE.

As retired undefeated heavyweight champion pugilist of the world, Gene Tunney remains a public personage to whom public congratulations are his undoubtedly and, what is more, we suspect that the story of Gene's romance—the story of his intellectual self culture and his struggle to make a million in order to offer himself to a girl born to culture and wealth—has a large place in the minds of millions, the younger generation especially, who follow current events.

Aspects there may be which in certain quarters of our many sided society may be regarded as not in tune with an accurate sense of the fitness of things.

Tunney's endeavors to rise as gentleman and scholar whilst battling with his fists to make the million deserve the greater stress and take on a very wholesome look indeed. If he has the education and culture the acquisition amounts to much more than his acquisition of the million dollars by prize fighting. His engagement seems proof of his rise, but whether it is depends on the general character of his fiancée. It is an ancient teaching in the literature and practice of culture that vital to the man who seeks the best in life is a good marriage. Not all the men or women who would climb the ladder of attainment successfully hurdle this rock.

So Mr. Tunney's case may arouse at least a passing realization by many who otherwise would have given the matter scant thought of the excellent importance of quality in mates and mating. In addition to congratulations, Mr. Tunney is entitled to the fervent wish that his marriage turn out to be as good as it looks.

"Modern policemen are of a higher type." Well, it takes a higher type to remember all the traffic ordinances. Eliminate a dangerous fire hazard by cutting the high weeds and grass. Women won equal rights. Now if only the men can win equal privileges.

Men who write books about themselves are full of their subjects.

TOLERANCE WITH A MEGAPHONE.

"I am notoriously tolerant," says former Senator Robert L. Owen, Oklahoma democrat, in giving expression to another anti-Smith blast.

That is the trouble. The tolerance of too many people is notorious. What we need is more of the quiet, sincere, unobtrusive brand, the brand that is noteworthy without being notorious.

One brief utterance on tolerance from a man like Governor Smith is worth more than all the low-minded pronouncements of all the hypocritical bigots in the world. Let us be done with notorious tolerance. Let us have more action and fewer words.

THE CONSUMER HAS TO PAY.

An association of advertising men recently declared against the practice of bold display of the word, "Free," in connection with advertisements. The experts are convinced that good advertising is true advertising.

Children ought to be taught to distrust the principle of something for nothing and to understand that cost goes with everything worth having. There would be a big saving to the coming generation from such instruction. And along with such teaching should go a training to avoid waste.

Bushels of wasted foodstuffs are carted away from every grocery store because of the carelessness of customers. The bargain counters are loaded with the results of shoppers' carelessness. But the losses of the bargain sales and the wastes of spoiled goods must all appear in the general cost of living. The consumer has to pay, otherwise there would be no one in business.

The bench in the park and the desk in the school belong to everybody and to nobody, but the cost of broken benches and whittled desks all show up in the taxes. The rights of private property are sacred and everyone has the right to do normally and reasonably as he likes with his own. But there is a sense in which all the property, all the accumulation of wealth, all the buildings and the other improvements, are community property, and the useless destruction of wasting of any of these is a general loss sustained by all.

Major Joseph H. Noyes, national commander of the Aviation Cadets of America, circled Corsicana several times one day recently in an effort to find a landing field. In a letter to Cadet Kerr B. Cowan the national commander asks information concerning Corsicana's facilities for handling air traffic.

On this trip the major was forced to pass up Corsicana. No doubt many planes would land in Corsicana if a field of sufficient size was available. This is a very emphatic reminder that Corsicana should delay no longer in securing a municipal landing airport.

Corsicana merchants will offer no premiums to attract trade. It will be their policy to give the greatest value for the dollar possible to which will be added unexcelled service and a wide variety of merchandise from which to make selection.

It is only a question of a short time until every city of any consequence will be forced to provide facilities for handling air traffic.

Things never are as bad as they seem. Think how many people never need a lawyer.

We are becoming an urban people, but it's hard to find anybody who doesn't know what a yearlin' is.

FOUR TEXAS CITIES FIGHT FOR NEXT STATE CONVENTION AMERICAN LEGION OF TEXAS

TEXARKANA, Aug. 27. (AP)—American Legionnaires of Texas and Arkansas met in joint session here today and to the accompaniment of patriotic songs and speeches pledged allegiance in promoting the growth of the Legion and its allied organizations.

Called to order at 10 o'clock by Dan Spruick of Shreveport, La., national vice commander, the first meeting continued past the noon hour with addresses by such notables as Gov. Dan Moody of Texas, United States Senator Morris Sheppard of Texas, Walton D. Hood and John G. Pipkin, state commanders of Texas and Arkansas, respectively.

The Saenger Theatre, where the joint session was held, was packed to capacity by delegates from the Bear and Lone Star states.

Scattered through the audience were the navy uniforms of a dozen bands and burlesque corps from the two states. One of the biggest hits of the convention opening was the appearance of the Girls' Drum Corps from Fort Smith, Ark., attired in fifty white jackets and skirts. The girls blocked traffic as they passed through the streets to the convention hall.

Another "parade" which drew applause was the solo march of Bates Russell, four-year-old son of Leslie Russell, of Fort Worth, grand correspondent of the Fort Worth voice of the city and 8. Bates is seeking the post of mascot for the Texas department of the Legion and is the youngest candidate on the ground.

Members of the executive committee of the Arkansas Legion and auxiliary had little sleep last night. Both groups held meetings which lasted until midnight. As the result of motion passed at the Arkansas Legion executive meeting, a recommendation will be presented to the regular meeting of the Bear state delegates tomorrow that each post in the state sponsor a scholarship in some Arkansas mountain school.

The joint session of the two state delegations today was the first and last of the three day gathering. Hereafter the state group will meet individually.

TEXARKANA, Ark., Aug. 27.—(AP)—Four Texas cities are in a strenuous fight for the next Texas American Legion convention as the joint meeting of Texas and Arkansas Legionnaires opened here today. An estimated attendance of 3,000.

Lobbies of the Twin City's principal hotels, devoid of furniture and packed with happy, shouting "buddies," were strung with banners exhorting the respective cities of Amarillo, Abilene, Waco and Port Arthur. Representatives of each of the cities announced they would fight to the last ditch for the next meeting place.

The battle for state commander to succeed Walton D. Hood promised to be equally as spirited. A dozen Texas delegations prepared to present candidate for the post.

The Arkansas delegates, wearing distinctive black overseas caps like those worn by the state fire insurance commissioner, who died Sunday after three days' illness, was sent last night to Palestine, his home and the home of his father, the late former Gov. T. M. Campbell, for burial.

Funeral was expected to be Tuesday, depending on the arrival of the commissioner's mother from Michigan, his sister, Mrs. C. V. Dilley, from California, and another sister, Mrs. R. R. Allen, from Washington.

These are the survivors of the immediate family, besides Mrs. Campbell, Jr., and young sons, William B. and T. M., III. Mrs. Campbell and the boys arrived here Sunday about four hours after Campbell died. They had been riding day and night since Friday night at 6 o'clock from New Mexico, where they were reached on a vacation trip with friends with news of Campbell's serious illness.

The commissioner was stricken Thursday night with acute stomach trouble, complicated later by heart attacks and pneumonia.

He was appointed by Governor Moody about 18 months ago. Before that, he was engaged in the insurance and banking business at Palestine, having aided in organization of the Guaranty State Bank and Campbell State Bank there. He was president and controlling stockholder in the Palestine Baseball Association of the Texas Association.

Discussion of a project to install a children's playground at the Texas, occupied most of the session of the executive committee of the Texas Women's Auxiliary last night.

Mrs. F. M. Hardin, president of the Texas Auxiliary reported $4,500 had been raised for the project. Mrs. Hardin explained that such a playground would enable wives of patients at the hospital to visit more often, as children would be permitted at the hospital at this time.

Plans to have the governors of three states, Texas, Arkansas and Louisiana, review the official convention parade and the Texas Legionnaires, who were expected to be disrupted when Governor Parnell of Arkansas sent word Sunday he would be unable to attend.

Governor Dan Moody of Texas arrived last night and Governor Huey P. Long of Louisiana was expected today. Mayor Ross L. Lawhon of North Little Rock was appointed to represent the Arkansas governor.

Senator Morris Sheppard, whose home is at Texarkana, was to address the joint gathering of delegates today.

FATHER KILLS HIS DAUGHTER IN EFFORT TO SAVE HER LIFE

BATH, N. Y., Aug. 25.—(AP)—Mrs. Louise Dart Gowan, 22, was slain and her husband, Claude Gowan, seriously wounded today by the woman's father, William Dart, at Gibson's Landing. Dart surrendered to authorities.

The shooting occurred at the Dart home where Mrs. Gowan had been living since an estrangement three months ago. Late last night Gowan called at the house and his wife dressed and went to talk to him. Dart, who said he feared trouble, picked up his shotgun and went outside.

"Father, he's killing me," the young woman cried in a few minutes, according to Dart. He ran up the road where he saw the two struggling. As he threw the gun to his shoulder he said: "Don't shoot, father; it's me."

He heard the cry too late. The charge from the shotgun struck the girl in the head and Gowan, the base of the skull. She was killed instantly.

Alleged Accomplice In Freestone Holdup Reported Arrested

FAIRFIELD, Aug. 25.—(Sp.)—After a search of several months, Sheriff J. H. Eubank of Freestone county has been notified of the arrest of Albert Powers, alleged accomplice of an unidentified man killed in an attempt to rob the Hugh Day filling station at Simsboro last spring.

Powers lost one leg when he was run over by a train at Odessa Aug. 15. Sheriff Eubank is informed, and is now in a hospital in Ector county. The filling station proprietor fired on the pair at his station during the night when he saw them looting tires and accessories. One man was shot and later died in a Teague hospital. The other escaped on foot, leaving the car.

TWO KILLED IN BLAST ASHLAND, Wis., Aug. 27.—(AP)—Two men were killed today in an explosion in the Jelly Punching House of the DuPont Powder plant at Darke, Mo. They are Raymond Holman, 45, and Alvin Bentstrom, 32.

WESTERN EUROPE MORE HEAVILY ARMED THAN BEFORE WAR

By ELMER ROBERTS, Associated Press Staff Writer
PARIS, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Consummation of the Kellogg-Briand war renunciation treaty finds Western Europe with the exception of Germany more heavily armed than in 1913.

Upwards of 3,000,000 men are in actual military service and, as it happens at this season, many hundreds of thousands have been called to the colors for training. Swift practice mobilizations are in progress and trial war maneuvers are under way throughout Europe.

In artillery, in stores of munitions, in chemicals and in tanks for making gases, in aircraft, in tanks, in all the complicated apparatus of destruction, the nations have a striking power, immensely superior to that of 1913.

Great Britain and Ireland, which just prior to the war had 406,000 men under arms, now have troops totaling 408,000. France, whose troops before the war numbered 648,000 had added 20,000 to this figure; Italy, whose 1918 army consisted of 274,000 men, now has 347,000 men under arms; Belgium has increased its army from 47,000 to 97,000 and Greece from 25,000 to 66,000. Roumania has an army of 205,000, compared with 103,000 maintained there before the war.

Peace States Stronger. States non-combatant in the great war have felt impelled to add to their military establishments. Switzerland, which had a so-called active militia before the war of 28,000 has now 170,000 owing to an improved organization. Denmark has increased its peace strength from 14,000 in 1913 to 33,000. Holland from 26,000 to 29,000. Spain from 88,000 to 224,000. Portugal has declined from 30,000 to 25,000. Norway from 7,000 to 4,000. Sweden from 26,500 officers and voluntarily enlisted men to 28,500.

Why these armaments? That is a question thrusting up in parliaments when budgets are debated, at Geneva always, in radical literature frequently. The common reply is the widespread distrust, suspicion and fear that pervade the councils of governments. Peace engagements of much formality have been adopted by European powers at Geneva in 1922, at Geneva in 1924, at Locarno in 1925, and now the most solemn of all, perhaps, the Briand-Kellogg convention of 1928. The distrust of the present is an inheritance of the past, the survival of tradition and the habit of thought deeply fixed by the training of the elderly statesmen in command of public business.

BODY OF CAMPBELL SENT TO PALESTINE FOR BURIAL TUESDAY

STATE FIRE INSURANCE COMMISSIONER SUCCEUMS TO SHORT ILLNESS

AUSTIN, Aug. 27.—(AP)—The body of Thomas Mitchell Campbell, Jr., 40-year-old state fire insurance commissioner, who died Sunday after three days' illness, was sent last night to Palestine, his home and the home of his father, the late former Gov. T. M. Campbell, for burial.

Funeral was expected to be Tuesday, depending on the arrival of the commissioner's mother from Michigan, his sister, Mrs. C. V. Dilley, from California, and another sister, Mrs. R. R. Allen, from Washington.

DISAPPEARANCE OF ENGLISH MINISTER FULLY EXPLAINED

MEDICINE HAT, Alta., Aug. 27.—(AP)—The "mysterious disappearance" of the Rev. Franklin Hutchinson from his home in Dodinghurst, Essex, England, has been solved.

With a party of 22 harvest hands recently sent over from England, the Rev. Dr. Hutchinson is working as a field laborer on a farm near Brooks, Alberta. The party regards him as their leader.

He is here to study farm conditions and to make a survey of educational matters and feels that the furore over his "disappearance" is a "mountain made out of a mole hill."

The minister said he resigned his church office before leaving England, that his plans were known to his bishop and the secretary of his religious division and that he has made no effort to keep his identity secret.

Financial Shortage Beset Anti-Smithites In State of Texas

DALLAS, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Anti-Smith democrats of Texas are facing a serious handicap in their efforts to deliver the electoral vote of the state to Herbert Hoover through lack of funds, Alvin S. Moody, Houston, chairman of the organization, declared today.

Moody was here for a conference with B. D. Sartin, campaign manager of the organization. "We know sentiment in Texas is overwhelmingly against Smith among the prohibition democrats," Moody stated, "and we are confident that we can prevent this state from casting its electoral vote for him in November."

"We are seriously handicapped by lack of money, however, to carry on our campaign. We have received a few donations, but all of them have been small."

All the moneyed men, who usually contribute to the democratic campaign in Texas, are Smith supporters.

Moody said that aside from financial troubles, the anti-Smith campaign is making great headway over the state.

AKRON STARTS INTENSIVE ROUNDUP OF UNDERWORLD AS INVESTIGATOR IS ATTACKED

AKRON, O., Aug. 27.—(P)—An intensive roundup of all known members of Akron's underworld was underway today because of the second attempt in three days on the life of Kyle Ross, vice crusading councilman, who engaged in a gun duel with gangsters after his home had been set afire last night.

Ross, recently appointed by the city council to investigate crime conditions, was fired on as he stood in the kitchen door of his home after being awakened by his wife, who had heard an intruder coming up the basement stairs. The bullet shattered one of the door panels.

The councilman switched on flood lights installed in his back yard when his life was first threatened, ran outside and exchanged shots with his assailant. A neighbor, Ed Hardesty, awakened by the firing, seized a gun and shot from his bedroom window at a second man who appeared near the Ross home. Both attackers then fled. None of the bullets took effect.

In the meantime, the basement of the Ross home had become a mass of flames. Firemen quickly extinguished the blaze and found that all of the cellar walls had been sprayed by gasoline.

Leum of Shreveport has completed his work and returned to Louisiana.

Some sixty more leases are being filed for record by the Carter Oil at Canton, Miss., county seat of Madison, in which southwestern corner a block is being assembled by Homer P. Lee. It is understood that northwestern Hinds county and part of Yazoo will contribute to this block.

HEAVY VOTE CAST IN RUNOFF PRIMARY IN NAVARRO COUNTY

The ticket was short and the counting rapid and the Sun gave out the returns as usual, with a great throng of interested people filling the entire block on Main street between Sixth avenue and Collin street, the block having been roped off through the courtesy of Chief of Police Will S. Knight, who assigned several police officers to the district to guide traffic and see that no auto drivers transgressed the reserved area. The crowd gathered early, knowing that the returns would be in early. The telephone service was prompt and most efficient and the three phones in the Daily Sun office were kept in constant use for the first hour following the closing of the polls at 7 o'clock.

Early Returns.
Thirty-six boxes had reported before 8 o'clock and at 8:52 the last box, Cade, came in, and the totals were given to the waiting throng by 9 o'clock. The returns were the quickest and most complete service given by the Sun during all the years that the election night "parties" have been staged. The co-operation of the election officials in every box in the county, the local Southwestern Bell Telephone company and the efficient corps of young ladies on the switchboards with the Sun's efficient reportorial force, made the excellent service possible.

Following the announcing of the total returns from the county the crowds began gradually thinning out. Many remained however, to hear returns from the Texas Election Bureau as furnished to the Sun over the private telephone wire in the Sun office on the race for United States senator over the state. After the first few counties reported Connally stood steadily ahead until by 10 o'clock the majority reported had reached about 45,000. After that hour the crowd dwindled to a few hundred who stayed until the wire closed for the night at that time the defeat of Mayfield having been practically definitely established with a majority at 12 o'clock of 80,000.

Commissioners Races.
In commissioners precinct No. 2, comprising the northeastern section of the county there was a race between J. O. Sessions and B. F. Guynes for commissioner that created much interest in the precinct. The vote as reported unofficially resulted in a victory for Guynes with 816 votes, Sessions receiving 699 votes. The other commissioners' race was in precinct No. 3, which comprises the southeastern section of the county extending west as far as Dawson. D. D. Sawyer received a total of 785 votes to win over W. H. Hartfield with a vote of 684.

The unofficial returns as received Saturday night by the Sun, which are believed to be fairly accurate, as such returns have heretofore proven to be, give the following majorities in the county in the nine contested places. In reality there were only eight contests as Thos. B. Love had withdrawn as a candidate for lieutenant governor, but his name was on the ticket and he received a fair vote. The figures are as follows:

Majorities Are Given.
For United States Senator—Connally 4421, Mayfield 3715; Connally's majority 706.
For Lieutenant Governor—Miller 5639, Love 2267; Miller's majority 3372.
For State Superintendent of Public Instruction—Marshall 4040, Garner 3620; Marshall's majority 420.
For Commissioners of General Land Office—Robison 4865, Terrell 2862; Robison's majority 2003.
For District Judge—Scarborough

FORMER ELECTRA CHIEF OF POLICE AMONG FUGITIVES

EX-PRISONERS OVERPOWER NIGHT JAIL GUARD; TWO RECAPTURED

WICHITA FALLS, Aug. 26. (AP)—Tom Shook, former Electra chief of police, and three other fugitives who last night escaped from the Wichita county jail after overpowering Frank Watkins, night guard, were caught today in the Wichita river bottoms after a spectacular break in which six prisoners gained their freedom.

Two of the men, who separated into pairs, were recaptured by Deputy Wilson, deputy constable, less than an hour after they attacked the jailer, took his pistol and escaped. The other two, who were lost the trail of the other two after they had been followed by the river.

The fugitives at large today were black, under indictment charged with murder, robbery with firearms, driving while intoxicated and two were returned for alleged burglary. H. T. Rich, charged with burglary and assault with intent to murder; Jack Wilippen, charged with theft over, and Dewey Ross, a federal prisoner facing prosecution for purported narcotic act violation. The murder indictment against Shook resulted from the fatal stabbing of Oscar Daugherty, Electra truck farmer, several weeks ago.

The break, executed like two of those others since March 28, occurred when Watkins opened the door to the run-around preparatory to setting the prisoners. Two who escaped upon him were quickly joined by three others.

BORAH ATTACKS SMITH IDEAS ON LIQUOR QUESTION

IDAHO FIREBRAND DECLARES THAT PLAN WOULD CAUSE WHOLESAL CORRUPTION

BOISE, Ida., Aug. 24.—(P)—Senator William E. Borah of Idaho in a statement issued last night said every state line in the United States would become a Canadian border with no way to prevent liquor traffic across lines, under the state option system advocated by Governor Alfred E. Smith in his acceptance speech.

Citing Canadian provinces as an example of what he claimed would occur in the United States, the senator said the Canadian situation was one where liquor is plentiful, corruption is rampant and bootlegging is universal.

Referring to the democratic nominee's advocacy of a system of public ownership, management and control of the liquor traffic, Senator Borah said:

"Facts are overwhelming and at hand to show that instead of creating respect for law this system increases lawlessness; instead of controlling liquor traffic it gives infinitely better opportunity for unlawful traffic of liquor."

"Bureaucratic government at its best is bad enough," he declared, "but bureaucratic government engaged in the manufacture, sale and distribution of liquor would be a cesspool of iniquity and corruption. It would be bureaucracy and bureaucracy drunk."

HOOVER REMAINS SILENT ON SMITH ACCEPTANCE TALK

BY JAMES L. WEST (Associated Press Staff Writer.)
HOOVER TRAIN EN ROUTE TO WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—(P)—Today, Herbert Hoover is completing his first campaign trip. He has taken him into 13 states from coast to coast and border to border.

Since leaving Washington on July 24, the republican presidential candidate has covered more than 8,000 miles, has been greeted by nearly a million people, delivered five prepared addresses, including that accepting the nomination, and made more than two dozen platform talks.

He returns to Washington, early tonight to take personal charge of his campaign forces gratified by conditions as he has found them and heartened for the strenuous contest that is ahead in a campaign just now getting under way.

The reception given him in Iowa, state of his birth, and reports he received while there from leaders from all of the great grain growing states were particularly pleasing, for in going to the place of his birth to renew boyhood associations he was moving into the one section of the country which had furnished cause for apprehension by at least some party leaders.

Crop and Business Conditions Central West Texas Good

CORPUS CHRISTI, Aug. 24.—(P)—J. O. Shelton, Abilene banker, here on a vacation, says crop and business conditions in Central West Texas are excellent, with much building activity and development apparent in all lines of industry.

Recent rains throughout the western section of the state have greatly improved cotton prospects, said Mr. Shelton, and if continued rains do not curtail production there will be a satisfactory harvest in almost all western localities.

THE MOUNTAIN

Hoary with age you lay your snowy head
Against the restful blue of peaceful sky.
As some old man, heavy with sleep and years,
Dreams in his chair; nor notes the clouds which fly—
And beat in fury, 'gainst thy breast so strong,
Hurl lightning darts, where forests clothe thy sides
With greens, or autumn's red and tawny gold,
And rivulets like silver threads that slide
Down to the vale where forms the river bold;
But all unheeding, you lift calm head above
The petty strife that vexes man below.
And, as a giant of great strength you hear
The burdens of the earth, its joy and woe.
Mamma Downward Peck in California Booklet.

The above poem written by Mrs. Peck of this city was published in Wednesday's Dallas News. Her California Booklet was in such demand, when published several years ago, that she had to have three or four editions. Other booklets of Mrs. Peck, such as Mother's Day Poems, Poems of the South, etc., have been equally as popular.

Adults Contract Children's Diseases

Adults can, and do, contract many children's diseases. And, usually, they suffer from them much more than children do. For instance, many adults contract worms, an ailment usually associated with children. Sometimes they suffer intensely and take expensive medical treatments, without realizing that worms are the cause of their troubles. Yet, the symptoms are the same as in children, loss of appetite and weight, grinding the teeth and restless sleep, itching of the nose and anus, and abdominal pains. And, the same medicine that surely and harmlessly expels round and pin worms from children will do the same for adults—White's Worm Expeller, which you can get at any drug company.

GOVERNOR SMITH GIVES HIS PERSONAL ATTENTION TODAY TO PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—For a while today Governor Smith will be behind a big desk reserved for him at democratic national headquarters and personally directed his campaign for the presidency.

In New York for an overnight stay before proceeding to Sea Girt tomorrow, the nominee was besieged at headquarters by hundreds of party workers and well-wishers. A steady stream of men and women flocked into his office on the eighth floor of the General Motors building. All wished the governor success and many attempted to get his ear for a moment to give suggestions as to the conduct of his campaign.

Among those who greeted the nominee was Justus S. Wardwell, democratic candidate for Governor in California two years ago and at present director of finance in that state for the democratic national committee.

Governor Smith told newsmen he had conferred for an hour last night with Hoke Smith, former democratic senator from Georgia, who, he said, assured him that "everything is all right" in the South.

SENATOR CURTIS STRIKES BACK AT SMITH'S SPEECH

G. O. P. VICE-PRESIDENT SAYS SMITH TRYING TO FOOL PEOPLE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—(P)—Some quick active campaigning on the eastern front seems in prospect with Senator Curtis, republican vice presidential nominee, striking out at the state liquor control plan of Governor Smith, the democratic presidential nominee.

Opening the republican campaign in the east yesterday in an address at Rocky Point, Rhode Island, Senator Curtis diverted from his prepared speech, promising tariff revision to assail the freshly delivered pronouncement of Governor Smith on prohibition modification.

He described the governor's plan as an attempt to fool the American people.

And then, the Kansas senator told how he had enforced the prohibition law back in 1885 at Topeka, Kansas, when he was prosecuting attorney and when "they were saying over the nation today that the prohibition idea can't be enforced."

Today Senator Curtis was back in Washington preparing to renew his campaign in the east. He will speak next Tuesday in the "back yard" of Governor Smith at the New York State Fair at Syracuse.

WASHINGTON TAKES NOTE OF CONNALLY'S ELEVATION; WAS OUTSTANDING HOUSE MEMBER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—(P)—As nomination by a state-wide democratic vote is equivalent to election in Texas, the indicated victory of Tom Connally will bring to the senate a man who may be expected to stand out among his colleagues but remove still another "personality" from the house.

He stood out during his twelve years of service in the house of representatives, and that is not an easy thing to do in an organization with rigid rules calculated to make an unwieldy body an efficient one, but with little or no time for individual attachments. When one is a member of the minority party, as Connally was for his entire service, the accomplishment becomes the more pronounced.

Less than a score of house members ever make much of an impression upon Washington at any one time. This is so because there are so many of them and because the rules permit so little opportunity for a man to develop into a "personality."

Some do it quickly by virtue of a characteristic or peculiar physical attribute, but not many.

Connally was one of a few Democrats to turn the tables in representative of voice and careful of his dictation and eloquence, his friends feel he also instinctively is able to sense the psychological time to speak. They point out that once granted the floor, he rarely encumbers his remarks with non-essentials or flowery phrases. He gets his point over quickly, often with sarcasm, sometimes with wit.

As a member of the foreign affairs committee, Connally became one of the chief democratic critics of the administration's foreign policy. Especially during the Sixty-Ninth congress when the Nicaraguan business was at its height, Connally, then no longer a youthful member in point of service, gave full and vehement expression to his disapproval of the sending of Marines to Central America.

But what his friends hold to be the senate's gain will be the house's loss and in this respect death and elections will remove a number of other "personalities" from the house.

Two curiously enough "Toms," Tom Butler of Pennsylvania and Martin Madden of Illinois, died. Tom Blanton of Texas and Finis Garrett of Tennessee lost out in elections when they ran for the senate. All were personalities in their peculiar way.
